

HOW TO PREPARE YOUR BELONGINGS BEFORE KEEPING THEM IN A STORAGE UNIT?

Are you planning to relocate to a new location? That's great! A new place welcomes you with new adventures and new opportunities. However, have you thought about your belongings? What will you do with your home's furniture and items during the relocation?

Carrying all the items from the old house to a new location during relocation is problematic. You might damage precious items during transit. Hence, the best thing is to keep all the belongings in the self-storage unit and slowly shift them.

When you plan to store all your belongings in a storage unit, it is very important to prepare them first to ensure that they are in good condition. If you are looking for storage in Stockport or a nearby location, contact a trusted service provider who has many storage facility options.

How do you prepare your items before storing them in self-storage units?

Clean All The Items Thoroughly: Before you start packing all the items, make sure that everything is cleaned thoroughly. This will prevent dirt particles or dust from accumulating and further damaging the items stored. You can use a mild detergent and warm water to clean the surface of the items. To ensure hygienic storage, spray and wipe the surface with an antibacterial surface cleanser.

Disassembling The Large Items: If you are storing large items like furniture in the self-storage unit, it is good to disassemble them before you store them. It becomes easy to transport and also prevents damage during the move. Make sure to keep all the parts, like screws and bolts, in a labelled bag for further use.

Protecting The Fragile Items: You need to be extra careful about fragile items like glassware and ceramics. They should be wrapped in bubble wrap or other protective materials to prevent them from further damage. You can also keep the shredded paper to fill up the space in the boxes to prevent the fragile items from shifting to a new location.

Make Use of Proper Packaging Materials: While keeping the items inside the self-storage unit, you must use suitable materials like sturdy boxes, packing tape, and labels. Refrain from using any damaged box, as it might not be strong enough to hold all the belongings properly.

Store Items In The Storage Properly: When you are storing the belongings carefully, make sure to keep the heavier items below and the lighter items on the top. It will prevent further damage to the items; you can easily access them later.

Following these points can help you arrange your items seamlessly in the self-storage unit. If you are looking for a strong, secure, and large storage unit, contact the team from Stockport Removals & Storage Ltd. We offer both long-term and short-term storage options. Call us to learn more.